Made in Wales

LIMB-art is a British design and manufacturing company, based in the heart of beautiful North Wales, dedicated to producing cool prosthetic leg covers.

Founded in 2018 by former Paralympic swimmer and medalist, Mark Williams and his wife Rachael, LIMB-art was born out of an overwhelming desire to help other prosthetic users raise their confidence, be proud of what they have and very simply, but equally importantly, have fun showing off whilst doing so!

The Latest Technology

Designed for all users of above knee and below knee prostheses, LIMB-art leg covers combine superior quality material with cutting edge computer aided design and manufacturing technology to provide robust, affordable and above all... COOL leg covers!

Tough. Durable. Cool!

12 Month No Quibble Breakage Warranty

The high quality material we use does not react with water or detergents. It is resistant to cracking and stress, even when flexed, and is impact resistant, so stands up to the rough and tumble of even our most active customers.

Stand Out • Stand Proud

Our covers restore balance to the silhouette, without trying to blend in or hide, and can be instrumental in raising confidence and self-esteem.

Prostheses have, over recent years, come on in leaps and bounds functionally. However, aesthetics seem to be generally overlooked. Our covers aim to change this. They are an accessory and protective cover which is lightweight (typically less than 250g), easy to fit and durable.

Fitting is quick and easy

LIMB-art covers come with two strong, slightly elastic straps. To attach your cover, simply strap it around your prosthetic leg and tighten. This will keep it in place and stop it from turning round or riding up.
